

ABSTRACT

The bachelor thesis titled “Stigmatization of Roma Children at Primary Schools in Rokycany and its Impact on the Individual” describes potential impact of stigmatization on Roma children. The thesis aims to describe teachers’ approach to the Roma children at primary schools. Theoretical part of the thesis presents a short introduction to the Goffman’s definition of stigma, Roma ethnicity, Roma people in the Czech Republic and their education, following up with an introduction to the personality of a teacher and an individual approach. Practical part of the thesis is dedicated to semi-structured interviews of Roma children and their personal experience with stigmatization at elementary schools in Rokycany.
